

Zoning Technician Red River Planning District (RRPD)

Red River Planning District (RRPD) – East St. Paul, MB

The Red River Planning District (RRPD) is seeking a motivated Zoning Technician to join our team. In this role, you will work closely with residents, builders, and staff to provide guidance on zoning regulations and assist with the review of development applications. This is a great opportunity for someone interested in municipal planning, development processes, and public service.

What You'll Do

- Serve as the first point of contact for zoning and land use inquiries.
- Provide guidance on zoning regulations, development requirements, and permit applications.
- Assist with reviewing development applications to ensure compliance with zoning and municipal by-laws.
- Collaborate with Development and Planning Services staff to support the application review process.
- Communicate with applicants, consultants, government representatives, and members of the public.

What We're Looking For

- Post-secondary education in planning, development, geography, or a related field.
- Experience working in a municipal or local government environment is an asset.
- Strong attention to detail.
- Familiarity with zoning or development regulations, or the ability to quickly learn them.
- Strong communication, organizational, and problem-solving skills.
- Proficiency with Microsoft Office and standard office software.

What We Offer

- Competitive salary
- Comprehensive benefits
- Professional development support
